BOREDOM BUSTERS – CODING!

Interested in computing? Try out two of our favourite coding websites for hours of fun and the chance to learn something new!

Hour of Code

Go to the Hour of Code website for loads of fun hour-long tutorials that teach you all about coding! There are lots of different levels and types of activities for everyone to try. Look out for Star Wars, Disney and Minecraft themed tasks and build pictures, games and much more using code! You can also search by the type of device you have to use too.
